

HANNAH OLA

- One of the most inspiring Gospel Artists in the UK known for excellent artistic delivery.
- Demonstrated versatility with self-written hit songs internationally, and across different genres (including Afropop, Afro Soul, Afrobeats, Cinematic Afrobeats, Contemporary Christian Music, Pop ballads), with culturally relevant songs that continue to cross barriers.
- Featured across nearly all major Christian TV media houses with chart topping hit songs and YouTube videos including "Issokay", "Baba Dey", "Blood Song", "Rain", "Overwhelming Praise", and "Turning Around", which became Hannah's third consecutive hit release of that year when listed as one of the Top Songs on the iTunes Charts (Christian & Gospel).

- Beyond the star collaborations (Tim Godfrey, Sammie Okposo), and beyond the shared stages (Mary Mary, Fred Hammond, Deitrick Haddon, Donnie McClurkin). Beyond the international recognition, accolades and multiple awards and nominations, Hannah Ola just wants to please God by focusing on all what He has called her to do; she reminds herself that music is a big (but not the only) part of the call.
- Singing live in Church, Conferences, festivals, and family gatherings are Hannah's favourites. She is a mesmerizing force live on stage, uniquely gifted with the ability to captivate audiences with her deftly produced music and signature velvet tone voice.
- Born to African, Nigerian parents, Hannah grew up in the UK and has spent close to two decades working across Europe. A melting pot of many cultures, Hannah's vocal dexterity and unique Afro-Western fusion creates a marvellous sound that has been embraced by people from all backgrounds.
